

ANXIOUS CROWDS STILL BESIEGE THE WHITE STAR OFFICE

Some Hoping Against Hope,
Others Unable to Find
Friends on Carpathia.

The arrival of the Carpathia with the survivors of the Titanic disaster did not diminish the crowds of anxious-faced persons at the White Star office in Bowling Green to-day.

Many went there refusing to believe that the published lists of survivors were complete and hoping to find that relatives and friends might by chance have been on the rescue ship. There were others who had not been able to get through the dense crowds that blocked West street for four blocks about the White Star pier when the Carpathia docked last night, and were prevented from meeting those whose names had been published as among the saved.

Mrs. John Street Toomey of No. 2429 O'Malley avenue, Bronx, was among the first to visit the Bowling Green building with her husband to-day. She was worried about her sisters, Kate and Margaret Murphy, whose names had been printed in the lists of survivors, but who could not be found at the Carpathia's pier.

The clerk in charge of the lists showing where Titanic people had been sent was absent. Mrs. Toomey's agitation was becoming intense when Mrs. Kate McCormick, also making inquiries, said she knew that the Murphy girls, her own former neighbors in County Longford, Ireland, had been brought off the Carpathia. Mrs. Toomey recognized Mrs. McCormick as an old friend, and together they learned that the Misses Murphy had been sent to St. Vincent's Hospital in an ambulance. Mrs. Toomey hurried away to learn their condition. There were many inquiries who had not anticipated the speed with which the Carpathia had come into port and had not reached the pier until all her passengers were scattered. As fast as possible they were told how to find the ones they sought.

As the morning wore on the crowds in the office began to get more definite. One was taken to a hospital, another had been taken to an immigrant home, and so on.

A newspaper in Jacksonville, Fla., learning that the niece of a clergyman in that town had been rescued after her uncle had gone down, made arrangements to care for her.

Miss Anna Nysten, whose name did not appear in the list of rescued of the third class, was found safe. Her name had been misspelled. Her home was in Kisa, Sweden, and she was given shelter in the Swedish Home.

Inquiries were made by Miss Helen Kelly for Della Mahon, eighteen years old, who was on board the Titanic with Miss Anna McGovern. On learning that Miss McGovern had been taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in an ambulance, Miss Kelly started for the institution, hoping the two girls had kept together.

THE STRAUS STORES CLOSE.

Macy's in Manhattan and Abraham & Straus in Brooklyn Shut Down.

The department stores of R. H. Macy & Co. in Manhattan and Abraham & Straus in Brooklyn closed to-day in memory of Isidor Straus and his wife, who died in the Titanic disaster. It was not until the Carpathia arrived with final proof that Mr. Straus and his wife had lost their lives that the report of their death was accepted as final. On the doors of the Abraham & Straus store, in which Isidor Straus was the principal surviving partner, was displayed this notice:

Owing to the death of Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus this store will be closed to-day and tomorrow.

Mr. Straus also had an interest in Macy's. Abraham Abraham, the other principal partner in the Brooklyn store, died last year. Nathan Straus, Isidor Straus's brother, who is also interested in the store, is ill in Rome.

Sympathy From Roosevelt.

The following telegram sent from Lincoln, Neb., by Theodore Roosevelt, was received by Mayer Gaylor this morning.

I wish I were present in New York this afternoon to join with my fellow citizens in expressing our grief at the shocking catastrophe to the Titanic and our deep sympathy with the kindfolk of those who have perished.

THEO. ROOSEVELT.

SIX DROWN IN FLOOD.

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 18.—Six lives are known to have been lost by the breaking of the Mississippi river levee at Beulah, Miss., Wednesday night. It is believed here that many more persons have perished. Twenty houses in the direct path of the loosened waters were swept away, and more than one hundred persons were rescued from house-tops and trees.

KEEPS HER FACE AND HANDS SMOOTH

In Spite of Rough Housework.
Resinol Her Secret. What Other Women Say.

"I have the pleasure of receiving compliments almost daily on the smooth condition of my face and hands. I give Resinol Soap the credit, for I am a housekeeper and do all kinds of rough work. Two bad cases of eczema and scald head have been cured in my neighborhood by my recommending Resinol Soap and Ointment. In my estimation there is nothing that equals Resinol for the cure of chafing. Mrs. Herbert Russell, Johnson City, Tenn."

Other women add: "I find Resinol Soap excellent for the complexion. It leaves a cool, refreshing effect and imparts a healthy glow to the skin. Have used Resinol Ointment for cuts and sore fingers, and am convinced that there is none better for that purpose. Mrs. M. H. Woodward, Bordentown, N. J."

"I must say Resinol Soap is the best soap I ever used. It made my hands and face as soft as a baby's. My face was blotched with blackheads, since I have been using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap they have entirely disappeared. Miss Estella Bennett, Circleville, Va."

Resinol Soap and Ointment not only do all that these letters suggest, but they stop itching at once, and prove the quickest, easiest and cheapest treatment for tormenting, unsightly skin and scalp eruptions, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, burns, scalds, wounds, and especially itching, inflamed piles. Recommended and sold by your druggist (Resinol, 25c each; Ointment, 50 cents and $1.00), but a generous sample of each may be had on application to Dept. 20, Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.
